Canada offers two levels or types of tuition, – academic (advanced) and vocational (general) level. The academic program provides students with the credits necessary to meet the entrance requirements of universities and colleges. The vocational program prepares students with the credits necessary to continue their studies at a post-secondary college, or to enter the job market.

Life in Canada

When asked about Canada, most students immediately visualize the abundance of natural beauty and the cosmopolitan nature of our cities. As the world's 2nd largest country, Canada is indeed expansive in territory with many beautiful national and provincial parks, mountains, lakes and rivers that extend between the rugged coastlines of ocean on both the east and west of Canada. Canadians by nature, therefore, appreciate and embrace the outdoors.

Most tourists make stops in our top cities: Toronto, Vancouver and Montreal. There is value in visiting these cities as we are proud of the cleanliness, multiculturalism and culture that they offer. But the true Canadian immersion is found not through placements in our largest cities, but rather in our smaller towns and cities across all provinces, where family traditions are highly valued and where schools welcome international students and are keen to share and learn about new cultures. International students often become star players on school sports teams, top students in class and cast performers in school plays.

Our placements in Canada ensure that students get to know the best of their community, while also offering opportunities to visit our more popular destinations. Canadians are friendly and welcoming. We are a nation built of immigrants, so we embrace many cultures and bring them into the community. We are tolerant of all religions, and most communities offer a variety of worship options.

Our education ranks among the best in the world, and we are proud to offer innovative course offers at the high school level, intended to challenge and intrigue students. English is the predominant first language, but as a bilingual country, French study is available in every school, as are other global languages such as Spanish, German or even Mandarin and Japanese. A study term in Canada is guaranteed to make each student a more global citizen.
